SATURDAY, DEC. 9, 1893.

SPEECHES OF PAROLED REBEL OFFICERS.

—At a Union meeting held in Guntersville Marshall county, Alabama, on the 10th of May, Major A. C. Baird, late of the rebel army, made the following speech:

"We have met to bury the tomahawk—to smoke the calumet of peace. All of us ought to reverence that Government which we could not destroy, and to which we have been compelled to submit. I shall do it cheerfully."

Colonel A. L. Sheffield, late of the forty-eighth Alabama Regiment, then spoke as follows:

"I have done all I could to establish the Southern Confederacy. I carried a musket for three years. I am whipped. I have been whipped for twelve months. The Southern Confederacy does not exist. I stand today like an erring child who has been whipped by his father."

AIN'T YOURS!—A bashful and rather green young fellow of our acquaintance, invited a young lady to attend a ball with him, one night last Summer. The invitation was accepted, and the couple appeared at the ball. After dancing for some time, "greeny" saw his partner sitting in one corner of the room, all alone. Now was his chance. So he walked up to where the lady was sitting, and sat down beside her. All well so far; but the bashful fellow was at a loss for something to say. He fidgeted about considerable, and was sweating profusely. Finally, taking hold of his wilted collar, he commenced conversation thus: "It's powerful warm in this room,—my shirt's wet, ain't yours?" His partner blushed, said nothing, but took his arm for the next dance.

THE PLUMAS SHERIFFALTY.—The Quincy Union, November 25th, has the following item on the contest for Sheriff in that county:

It is more than probable that Mr. Clark enters upon the duties of the office of Sheriff of this county, on the first Monday of March next, he will be so up to the hilt of an order that effect from the Supreme Court; and it is more than probable that no such order will ever be issued.

We infer from this that Mr. Clark wins the suit, and the incumbent appeals.—[Appeal, Dec. 4.]

Got fooled a little, didn't you, "Old Smarty?" Did you see the "roosters?" Ha! ha!

THE COSTS.—In the report of the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors of Butte County, published in the Union Record, we find the following:

The Board directed the Clerk of this Board to transmit to the Clerk of Plumas County the amount of the costs of the survey of the boundary line between Butte and Plumas counties, with request that said bill be presented to the Board of Supervisors of Plumas county, for payment of one-half thereof.

The total expense, as per bill received, was $775 70, of which amount, Plumas County is requested to pay $377 85.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.—The Gazette learns from a gentleman who came down from Moore's Flat Thursday, that the flume of the old Miners' Ditch, near Snow Point, was torn down on the night of the 27th ult., for a distance of about five hundred feet. The destruction of the flume was evidently the work of malice, as the boards had been cut with a hatchet so as to turn the water off before the structure was demolished. It was probably done by the same parties who attempted some weeks ago to destroy the Magenta Flume.

I. O. G. T.—The Grass Valley Union says a large number of the members of Sylvania Lodge, I. O. G. T., have petitioned the Grand Lodge for a charter to enable them to organize a second lodge in this place. The cause which led to this step is the crowded state of Sylvania Lodge and the inability of the hall to accommodate so large a number of persons at one meeting.

TROUBLES OF A LADY'S TOILET.—An Illinois paper is responsible for the following, in reference to the difficulties ladies are compelled to undergo in arranging their toilet:

Two damsels passing through the depot, day or two since, were having an animated discussion on the subject of coiffure, and one exclaimed: "What do you think, Maria?
It took me twenty-five minutes, this morning, to make my waterfall!"

GENERAL TERRY, who captured so many Southern gentlemen at Wilmington, has been captured by a Southern lady, who is to be exchanged for him. He does not wish to be exchanged.—[Ex.]

There is a splendid chance for some of the "negro equality" sheets to "make a point."
Who "howls" first?

IRISH PEOPLE.—We have received the 2d and 3rd numbers of The Irish People, a paper recently started in San Francisco, devoted to the interest of the Fenians in particular, and the Irish nation in general. Felix O'Byrne is said to be the editor-in-chief.
Maj. Stratman is the publisher.

VERY nice Union paper that Quincy Union.—[Marysville Appeal.]

Such a compliment from such a source, pleases us. Thank you "much," Mr. Appeal.

RANCH FOR SALE.—The Leidesdorf Ranch, in Sacramento county, containing twenty-five thousand acres, is offered for sale.

TOUCHING AND BEAUTIFUL.

The subjoined stanzas are some of the most expressive, affecting and beautiful that are to be found in the English language. It is rare that so much of filial affection, genuine piety and poetical expression, are condensed in so few lines, with such rhetorical finish and yet marked simplicity. They are from the pen of a dead soldier, a young man from Springfield, Massachusetts, named Henry M. Hunt, and were published in the Springfield Republican some three years ago.
Young Hunt was a marble-cutter in that city, and a member of the City Guard, of the Tenth Massachusetts Regiment. He had a great fondness for his trade, and showed such a genius in it, that he was urged to devote himself to the profession of a sculptor. He was a conscientious young man, a good soldier and an affectionate son. He died in the hospital of small pox. In one of his letters home he inclosed the following exquisitely beautiful lines to his mother:

On Guard.

At midnight on my lonely beat,
When shadow wraps the wood and lea, A vision seems my view to greet Of one at home that prays for me.

No roses blow upon her cheek—Her form is not a lover's dream—But on her face, so fair and meek, A host of holier beauties gleam.

For softly shines her silver hair,
A patient smile is on her face,
And the mild, lustrous light of prayer Around her sheds a moon-like grace.

She prays for one that's far away—
The soldier in his holy fight—And begs that Heaven in mercy may Protect her boy and bless the right!

Till though the leagues lie far between,
This silent license of her heart Steals o'er my soul with breath serene,
And we no longer are apart.

So guarding thus my lonely beat,
By shadowy wood and haunted lea, That vision seems my view to greet
Of her at home who prays for me.

SKETCHES—No. 2.

BY G. S. B.

PROSPECTING.

If we wish to acquaint ourselves with the few, feeble efforts that have been made to prospect Sawpit Ridge, we can hardly, I think, make a better commencement than by taking the trail from the mining camp of Union Valley towards Poorman's Creek.

You pass up the Valley to near the head, and here is a tuffaceous hill for the channel and has been abandoned, or rather, I might better say, perhaps, the work was discontinued six years ago. The tunnel reveals pipe clay and quartz gravel, and there is every reason for believing that the lead extends under this mountain. There is plenty of water here for a hydraulic wheel, and how it is that some company of men has not taken hold and put an incline in this old tunnel seems almost unaccountable; but mining in such a place requires a capital, not only of strong hands and arms, but also a few big, almighty dollars.

You leave here and wend your way in an easterly direction to the summit. The ridge, when approached from the Union Valley side, does not seem high in Summer, and is a cool, cheerful, pleasant place. Descending into the head of Poorman's creek, you cross the famous Red Slide. The name, "Red Slide," for a place like this seems very appropriate indeed; for the ridge is of deep red color, and is shattered and broken to its very center. For centuries, piece by piece, one huge mass has swept down into the creek, and then another, and now half of the mountain seems destined to follow at no very distant day. Many people think that the great richness of Poorman's creek is in part attributable to this immense slide; but no matter,—here, in this dangerous place, the Red Slide Company started a tunnel in 1854. Timbers crushed like matches under the immense weight of this moving mountain, still the work went on.
Eleven hundred feet of tunnel failed to discover the right bed of gravel supposed to be under the red slide. A shaft was being sunk, and was ninety feet deep, when Mr.
Blackington, the leading spirit of the enterprise, was killed. He fell into the shaft one night when about to descend to his work.
The Red Slide tunnel was abandoned immediately. The dump shed, smith's shop and cabin have been crushed under the weight of the deep snow that have since fallen upon them, and the place now seems gloomy, sad and desolate. From the Red Slide to point nearly opposite to the lower end of Union Valley the ridge is the property of various members of the Micawber family.
Some few shafts have been sunk, but always on the outside of the ridge, and all parties long ago suspended operations, and today, are quietly, patiently waiting for the Setting Sun Company to show them the depth of the channel.

SETTING SUN COMPANY.

This may be said to be the only mining company in Union Valley. The tunnel was commenced in 1857. The rock was hard, but the company was resolute and energetic, and for four years the work went bravely forward—then the notion prevailed that the tunnel was too low. One year was lost in raising a shaft in hard rock. Two years more have been lost in running gangways, sinking inclines and working the worthless gravel around the rim-rock. To-day, hard as the rock is, the necessity of driving the tunnel ahead is, I believe, apparent to all.
The company is now being incorporated, and evidently has no intention of abandoning the fight.

WASHINGTON HILL.

A half-mile travel in an easterly direction from Union Valley and along the Nelson Point trail leads you to Washington Hill. In 1855, six companies organized here, framed a code of mining laws, and contributed their mites to run a prospecting tunnel in the Washington Company's claims.

CORRESPONDENCE.
Our friends everywhere, who may at any time have knowledge of facts of local importance—accidents, accidents, mining news, doings of public meetings, improvements, curiosities, etc.—would confer a favor upon us and our readers generally by sending notice of the same to this office. Give us facts in any shape, and we will take care of them.

A little more than a year's labor made 500 feet of tunnel and revealed the inner walls of this great treasure-vault of Nature.
Here was the fountain-head of gold. Here, Old Mother Nature, behind these strong battlements, had hoarded up huge piles of precious metals, and had held them securely for a thousand centuries, perhaps, but now the key had been found. Two dollars to the car load, just inside the rim-rock! Think of that, and then predict the wealth lying at the bottom of the channel, if you can. True, this tunnel was too high,—that fact was conceded. The bed rock was very hard indeed, and the gravel that lay around the rim-rock was so firmly cemented together, that it required a very able man to break a car load and a half in a day. But these things were regarded as mere trifles. The claimholders very naturally became very much elated, and in their joy committed a fatal mistake. They undertook to use, and did in fact use, the greatest of all Yankee prerogatives, that of guessing—they guessed at the channel. Then the busy hum of industry ensued. A neat, cosy, comfortable little mining town sprang up like magic.
Tunnels were commenced, fine, large dump sheds appeared at the ends of the tunnels, and everything seemed to point to a bright happy future.

But what has been the result of this guess? As you approach the hill from Onion Valley, you come first to the Australia claims. This company, in 1857, commenced a tunnel, and by running 800 feet drove through the rim-rock. Two years were spent in taking out gravel around the rim, and another tunnel commenced in 1859 was run a distance of 400 feet. The company exhausted itself and gave up only when it was impossible to do more. The Washington claims lie next to the Australia. The first tunnel in these claims, as we have before stated, is the pioneer tunnel of the hill.
A second tunnel, started in 1857, was run 1800 feet, at a cost of over $12,000. The tunnel is lying idle in consequence of being too high for the channel, and the company's inability to do more. The Union claims lie adjoining the Washington. The Union Company commenced in 1857, made 1100 feet of tunnel and sank an incline one hundred and sixty feet. The claims were worked only a short time after getting into gravel. The gravel was soft, easy to break, and paid an average of $5 to the car load.
The company put forth almost superhuman efforts to continue work, but the water increasing every day, finally drove them out.
The last set of timbers put in, or rather, the last bit of ore, occupying a space of perhaps five feet square, yielded four ounces of gold. The next claims REVENUE.—The Auditor's and Treasurer's quarterly statement will be published next week. It will show that the finances of Plumas are in a healthy condition.

FORECLOSURE.—John Parrott, San Francisco, has commenced suit to foreclose a mortgage on the Eureka mills, &c. Amount due, about $25,000.

TURKEY.—Thanks to the friend who sent us that fat turkey the day before Thanksgiving Day. Ample justice was done to the turkey, and in our thanksgiving, the donor was not forgotten.

LAST CALL.—See notice of the County Auditor in another column. Taxes must be paid before the 26th inst., or suit will be commenced by the District Attorney.

GOOD RETURNS.—The Premium Company has had several tons of rock from the Premium ledge crushed at the Crescent Mills, during the past two weeks. The rock crushed, averaged about $30 to the ton.

NOT CONSIDERED.—The returns of the Supervisor election have not all been received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors. The votes will be canvassed on Monday next, the last day allowed by law for votes to be received and counted.

APPEARED.—The attorneys in the contested election case, lately tried in the County Court, were unable to agree upon a statement to be used upon the hearing before the Supreme Court, and the County Judge had to settle the statement. The appeal bond has been filed, with W. Schlatter and S. M. Aschheim as sureties, and the case will probably come before the Supreme Court at the January term.

GOODS FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—Pierson—Hartow Pierson—At Moore's old stand, has received a large stock of toys, fancy goods, &c., suitable for Christmas and New Years presents. He has also on hand, and offers for sale, at reasonable prices, candies of all sorts and kinds, nuts, figs, winter apples, tobacco, cigars, cutlery, books, stationery, &c., &c. Now is the time to select Christmas gifts for the children, and at Pierson's is the place to get them. On Thanksgiving Day, "Hartow" furnished this office with a box of nice cigars, for which we return thanks.

QUARTZ.—We learn that several new ledges have been discovered in the Indian Valley section during the past two weeks. The owners of the King ledge, at Mohawk, have their claims nearly completed, and will commence crushing quartz next week. A company are at work prospecting the Union ledge in this valley. They believe the ledge will pay to work. One or two new ledges have been struck in Long Valley, by Jackson & Rockwell. "Rocky" showed us some very rich specimens from their ledges. The new mill of the Crescent Company is not running at present. The Company is making repairs, &c. The Eureka mills have stopped crushing for this season.

Nervous Complaints.

It is not probable that there is a country in the world where the inhabitants suffer so much from diseases having their origin in derangement of the nervous system, as in California. A slight disease of the nerves, if not promptly attended to, will produce such complaints as RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DEBILITY, IMPOTENCE, HEART DISEASE, and numerous minor complaints, under which the patient suffers until the physical powers are destroyed, the nervous system shattered and the sufferer sinks into an untimely grave. In all cases of nervous disorders will effect a permanent cure and restore the patient to health and strength. Even when apparently upon the verge of the grave, this medicine will snatch the intended victim from the fell destroyer and hold the grim monster at bay, sometimes for years. WATT'S NERVOUS ANTIDOTE is purely a vegetable preparation, and will harm no one. Persons of sedentary habits or those whose occupation require extraordinary exercise of the brain, will find this medicine of great benefit, as it produces activity of the physical functions and quiet to the nerves.

WATT'S NERVOUS ANTIDOTE is for sale by all Druggists.
